

Free Third Saturday Event
NASA Glenn Visitor Center
Lake Erie Through NASA's Eyes
January 17, 2009
9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

An otherwise familiar lake holds many surprises when viewed through NASA's electronic eyes. NASA Glenn has used airplanes outfitted with high-tech instruments to study Lake Erie. Find out how the aircraft are instrumented and flown and hear about the exciting science generated by these flights.

11 a.m. - Alan Micklewright, NASA Pilot

1 p.m. - John Lekki, NASA Engineer

See Web site for details.

Make your reservations today by calling (216) 433-9653.

Free kids' crafts and activities,
"Picture Yourself in Space" digital photographs and much more.

- Access to the NASA Glenn Visitor Center is limited to U.S. Citizens.
- All adult visitors are required to present government-issued photo identification.

Free admission always!

For more information on NASA Glenn events go to visit.grc.nasa.gov